

Kristen Levi
Development and Operations Manager
Mesa Community College

When you call or walk through the front doors of Desert Voices, you will most likely be greeted by Kristen. She has been a loyal team member since 2009 as our Development and Operations Manager. Kristen tackles the day to day challenges of running Desert Voices. Whether taking a call from a parent who just found out their child is deaf, to supporting the entire staff, Kristen is also making sure our listening and spoken language professionals have what they need to teach every day, along with organizing and implementing all Desert Voices fundraisers, campaigns and events.

When Kristen is not wearing one of her many Desert Voices hats, she enjoys her time away from the office with her family and dog Kaiya. Their favorite thing to do while outside of school is spending time at the barn riding their horse Dean Martin and mule Daisy. If you don't find the girls at the barn, you can find them lending a hand at their family owned business ,Wright in the Garden, ran by Kristen's husband Michael. The Levi family also loves seeking new adventures by exploring new places any chance they can!
