

Audrey Brooks

Teacher of the Deaf/Support Staff

M.S. Deaf Education, Washington University in St. Louis

B.A. Communication Disorders, Truman State University

Audrey joined the Desert Voices team in 2019. Born in Glendale, AZ but raised outside of St. Louis, MO, Audrey has loved getting back to her Arizona roots. In 2017, she received her Master of Science in Deaf Education from Washington University in St. Louis. Upon graduation, Audrey worked in the public school system outside of Kansas City, MO for two years. There, she gained experience working with students ranging in ages from three to fifteen.

Audrey has taught on the Desert Voices team as both a small group teacher of the deaf in our preschool program, and as the lead teacher in our preschool Discovery Room. Her passion for her job lies in being part of a team that supports both the child and the family on their listening and spoken language journey! Currently, Audrey is part of our team as our Teaching Team Support staff member where she works with all DV team members from the administrative side to the instructional side on a variety of projects!

Audrey loves spending her time taking walks, hiking, and traveling. She loves coffee and being outside! She has been married for five years to her husband, Christian, and they recently welcomed their little baby girl, Baker, in February 2022! Baker has found her place in the family alongside the family's dog, Cinnamon! Audrey and her husband have a lifetime goal to stop and visit every US state together—they are currently at 22 states!
